

Lancelot Cowie: "Drug trafficking in Colombia: a socio-cultural approach"

Colombia has been regarded as a country of drug trafficking and related violence. The role of the drug lords and cartels in Cali and Medellin have been chronicled by scholars with varying degrees of subjectivity and sensationalism. The present paper will discuss the drug phenomenon through the lens of testimonial writings and sociological research.