Understanding International Sanctions: Implications for the Caribbean

PROSPECTUS

In-depth Level

Practical and Professional Skills for the Diplomacy Practitioner

- I. Have you completed an academic degree incorporating multidisciplinary formal training in politics or economics or public/business administration or policy analysis or culture and society, drawing upon a Caribbean perspective or regional focus?
- II. Are you of the view that, while you have broad exposure to and knowledge of key disciplinary concepts, theories and debates at an advanced level, as a mid-career professional with specialized policy experience in order to drive greater success and gain an edge in taking the next step on your career path in the public, private, or nonprofit sector (professional contexts wherein diplomacy looms large) you need to be further equipped with relevant practical and professional skills?
- III. Are you looking for high-quality, immersive learning and short-term, hands-on practical training that won't interrupt your career; rather, augment same, recalibrating your professional profile to cast you as a highly marketable international expert with in-depth, specialist understanding of international affairs and contemporary diplomatic practice?
- IV. Are you keen to gain relevant expertise by leveraging a cohort network of like-minded peers, as well as by having direct access to scholar-practitioner facilitators from within and outside of the Caribbean who are practiced professionals and, in some instances, faculty and other top-level experts associated with The University of the West Indies, including its renowned Institute of International Relations (IIR)?

If so, then the following Diplomatic Academy of the Caribbean (DAOC) credential is suited for you:

The DAOC is the Caribbean's premier professional development-oriented diplomatic studies training centre

Location and Building

The Government of the Republic of Trinidad and Tobago contributed funds to a new building for the DAOC, which was officially opened on 21 August 2015. Located on the St. Augustine Campus of The UWI, the building adjoins the IIR.

The building plays host to the Academy's Secretariat and includes classrooms, breakout rooms, and a board room and television studio, among other amenities.

The DAOC

The DAOC is the Caribbean's premier professional development-oriented diplomatic studies training centre. The Diplomatic Academy is an integral part of The University of the West Indies St. Augustine Campus and the Campus' renowned Institute of International Relations (IIR), which was established in 1966 by agreement between the Government of Trinidad and Tobago and the Government of Switzerland.

Advent, Aims and Mandate

The DAOC was launched on 6 May 2014. Its realization stems from an exemplary partnership between The UWI St. Augustine Campus and the government of the day of the Republic of Trinidad and Tobago.

A first-of-its-kind, practitioner-focused centre, the Diplomatic Academy aims to provide high-quality, immersive learning and short-term, hands-on practical training in modern diplomacy education, as a complement to formal training and on-the-job training in that area.

Integral to the DAOC's mission is its commitment to help close human resources capacity gaps in international affairs and diplomacy in the Caribbean, by providing capacity-building and skills development training in diplomacy to up and coming diplomats and to aspiring diplomats from the Region.

This diplomatic learning and training facility also strengthens the University's capacities for research/analysis, knowledge-sharing, advocacy, and partnerships and dialogue on the relationship between diplomacy and the Caribbean broadly conceived, with the goal of helping to facilitate policy-relevant awareness-raising on international affairs issues of import (and that are topical) to the Region.

Format, Methodology, Means of Action

The DAOC's professional development-centric module-based or customized/tailor-made workshop teaching programmes, which are held over several days either on-campus or off-site, guide participants in honing their diplomatic capabilities. They impart the knowledge, essential (especially soft) skills, insights and networks needed of 'global thinkers' to fast-track a career path and drive greater success in the multi-focal profession of diplomacy.

The teaching programmes are interactive and, on an as-needs basis, they draw on a range of subject and area experts. While the programmes are situated in an academic or disciplinary context, the approach to teaching is analytical. It is practice- and teamwork-oriented via techniques such as the use of real-world case studies, peer mentoring and, on a case-by-case basis, study visits, among others. The means of action are four-fold: (i) innovative and experiential sharing and learning; (ii) simulations and advanced training methods; (iii) networking with superior local, regional and international expertise; and (iv) outreach beyond the Caribbean Community (CARICOM).

About the Certificate of Training in Understanding International Sanctions: Implications for the Caribbean

This new four-day module, entitled Understanding International Sanctions: Implications for the Caribbean, is one of a suite of cutting-edge training programmes, which span a recently established, multi-rung or three-tiered approach to learning at the DAOC, as follows:

As an In-depth Level offering, this non-credit module provides a grounding in practical and professional skills relevant to its titular reference, adding value to the resume of the diplomacy practitioner.

Module Description and Instructors

This module will provide participants with an overview of United Nations (UN), United States (US) and European Union (EU) sanctions from design through implementation, monitoring and redesign of sanctions. Participants will learn practical information about how to design, implement and evaluate a sanctions regime.

The module includes lectures, interactive discussions, expert panels and group exercises/simulations.

The module instructors have extensive experience in working on UN, US and EU sanctions.

Of note, they have authored several sanctions-related policy and academic publications and conducted the first UN sanctions international training course in January 2019, in collaboration with the UN Security Council Secretariat.

The Diplomatic Academy derives its character from its global outlook, real-world impact and Caribbean mindedness which, in sum, constitute The DAOC Advantage™
