The Department of Liberal Arts
Modern Languages Section - French
Invites You To Our Annual Prof. J Michael Dash Lecture

“Post-Prospéro: Neocolonialism In The Works Of Aimé Césaire And Dany Laferrière”

Thursday 23rd February 2012
FHE SB1 From 1:00 to 3:00 pm

Prof. J Michael Dash.
Born in Trinidad, professor Dash has worked extensively on Haitian literature and French Caribbean writers, especially Edouard Glissant, whose works, The Ripening (1985), Caribbean Discourse (1989) and Monsieur Toussaint (2005) he has translated into English.

After twenty-one years at the University of the West Indies, Jamaica where he was Professor of Francophone Literature and Chair of Modern Languages, he is now Professor of French at New York University after having been Director of the Africana Studies Program. His publications include Literature and Ideology in Haiti (1981), Haiti and the United States (1988), Edouard Glissant (1995), The Other America: Caribbean Literature in a New World Context (1998).