About the B. Ed. Degree Programme

The Bachelor of Education degree programmes (Primary-General) and ECCE) are professional degrees designed for primary and preschool school teachers. Their aims are to provide for the holistic development of reflexive professionals who are sensitive to the need to combine caring and advocacy with school and classroom management skills, effective leadership, and information and communication technology in creating appropriate learning opportunities for their students.

The main purpose of the B. Ed. Primary (General) degree programme is to positively impact teaching and learning in primary schools by strengthening practitioners’ knowledge and teaching competency in the range of primary school subjects (a general programme). It replaces the B. Ed. in Primary Education with special options in Mathematics, Science, Social Studies, Language Arts and Educational Administration which was previously offered by the School of Education, St. Augustine campus. The B. Ed. ECCE programme prepares teachers to teach young children in early childhood settings.

The programme facilitates multiple entry pathways for teachers with varying levels of initial certification. It also accommodates new applicants.
Goals of the programme

To promote the initial and ongoing professional development of teachers in primary schools.

Teaching
The goals for teaching are to prepare a teaching professional who has:

- an understanding of education as being located within the wider social context
- knowledge and understanding of a variety of theories, models, strategies, and approaches to teaching and assessment appropriate for young children and early adolescents
- the flexibility to transform a syllabus into an effective and relevant curriculum
- a commitment to deliver inclusive and holistic education to his or her charges
- a willingness to respond as change agents in the school/preschool setting and community and,
- the desire to constantly reflect ‘in practice’ as well as ‘on practice’

60% of the courses in the B. Ed. Primary (General) will be delivered fully online and the remainder 40% will be offered through a mix of face-to-face and online modes. For the latter a variety of teaching modalities will be used, such as podcasts, blogs, and wikis, as well as face-to-face lectures, tutor led-seminars and tutorials, student-led seminars and tutorials, practical teaching sessions in primary schools, and workshops.

Learning
The goals for learning are that students will be encouraged to:

- use their developing knowledge to make professional decisions about their own teaching
- collaborate with others to promote collegial relationships for change in the primary school
- respond effectively and be creative in addressing challenges in schools
- commit themselves to continuous professional development throughout their teaching careers
Assessment
The assessment formats include:
Extended essays, in-class tests and, projects such as - a school field study, design of lessons, map interpretation, the production of educational materials using various technologies, e-portfolios, evaluation reports, and performance assessment of practical teaching.

Objectives of the programme –
At the end of the programme, teachers will be able to -
- Plan and implement instructional activities in all the curriculum areas offered by the primary school or at the ECCE Level
- Adapt their curriculum to meet the diverse needs of their students
- Use students’ pre-knowledge to construct effective learning experiences
- Use appropriate technologies to support teaching and learning
- Employ a variety of forms of assessment that support the holistic development of the child
- Demonstrate the necessary attitudes, skills and knowledge to support their professional practice
- Critically interrogate dominant educational policies and practices
- Attach value to collegial relationships in promoting teaching at the level of the class, the department and the school
- Reflect on their own teaching philosophy and practice and on ways in which these might be refined

Candidates may pursue EITHER the B.ED. Primary (General) OR the B.Ed. in Early Childhood Care and Education (ECCE).

B.Ed. Primary (General)
1. Trained Teachers 72 credits
2. Untrained Teachers 93 credits

B.Ed. Early Childhood Care and Education

The Bachelor of Education degree (ECCE or GENERAL) will be awarded to persons who have satisfactorily completed the programme of study as prescribed above.
B.ED. PRIMARY (GENERAL) ONLINE PROGRAMME

What is distance learning?

To define or describe distance learning or e-learning, it is best to first define learning. Learning is the act of developing skills or obtaining knowledge. E-learning refers to developing skills and obtaining knowledge electronically. E-Learning may also describe course work which uses a computer network as part of a class, whether guided by an instructor or utilizing an independent method of learning.

How much of my class will require using the Internet?

The amount of time students are required to be on the Internet differs from course to course. Some instructors provide information and course materials using only e-mail. Other instructors will require students to go to a designated Web page or Web site to log into a virtual classroom environment.

What technologies are used in online education?

Distance learning uses a wide variety of technologies and different types of media. Most distance learning is Web-based and takes place through an "online campus" Web site. These sites are sometimes called "learning management systems" and "virtual learning environments," but they're mostly sites that you sign into to receive information and interact with your fellow students. These sites are collectively referred to as course management systems.

Expect the following technologies…

- Course management systems like Blackboard, or Moodle
- Word processing documents such as .DOC or .PDF files
- Streaming audio, video, and podcasts https://sta.uwi.edu/cits/myelearning
- Textbooks and printed literature

In online courses, you can expect digital handouts and copies.

What about the types of information you'll find in the virtual classroom?

You're likely to encounter a lot of reading — handouts that consist of Word documents and PDF files are common.
How do students interact in online courses?

In a traditional class setting, the instructor provides feedback to students verbally, with body language, or writing on a whiteboard or chalkboard. Students comment or ask questions, interact with others in verbal discussions, collaborate with small groups, and may give presentations. Similar forms of interaction and collaboration exist in online courses, with a few substantial differences.

Writing in online forums or via e-mail is the way classmates discuss topics.
Writing is the primary form of communication in the online classroom. Unlike the seated campus classroom, online students do not have the opportunity to speak to one another as readily. Written communication is much more prevalent in online classrooms. Verbal communication is used in teleconferencing and videoconferencing.

Written communication tools in the online classroom can include:
- E-mails
- Word or PDF documents
- Threaded discussions or message boards
- Chat rooms

Asynchronous classes do not have specified meeting times.
Online learning is usually asynchronous. This means the instructors and students do not necessarily need to be online at the same time to post information or messages. Online students have varied personal schedules, which contribute to the disjointed nature of online classroom communication. The majority of the interaction does not occur at the same time, with discussions and responses being separated by minutes or even days.

How will I be taught?

The B. Ed. Primary (GENERAL) will be delivered using a mix of blended learning, fully online, face-to-face courses and mixed-modes of delivery.
- Blended: A blend of online and other modalities
- Online: Fully online via the Internet
- Face-to-Face: Traditional classroom
- Mixed-mode: Face-to-Face and other modalities
Do remember, whichever teaching format is used, being an independent learner is key to your success!

How will I be assessed?

Courses are assessed in a combination of ways, with methods varying according to the nature of the subject being taught.

Methods of assessing courses include: coursework, project work, tutorial and/or seminar presentations and written, practical and oral examinations.

The assessment plan will be communicated to you as part of the course information.

Students have a responsibility to ensure that they participate fully in learning situations and submit assignments and projects by the deadlines.

FAQs

What is BANNER?
BANNER is an electronic database.

What are CRNs?
CRNs are groups of numbers that allow the electronic system to recognize each course and the Faculty responsible for the course. It also identifies the number of students allowed to register for each course and what prerequisites they must possess to do so.

Why do I have to view my electronic transcript every month?
By viewing your electronic transcript every month http://mysta.UWI.edu/it assists you in keeping track of your registration status, thereby assisting you in avoiding any unexpected registration problems at the end of the semester that may debar you from viewing your grades.

What is ‘de-registration’ and how is that done?
‘De-registration’ is the act of de-registering oneself from a course you have already registered for. This must be done during the ‘drop and add’ period and must be done online. There are guidelines available at every step that would assist you to ‘de-register’.

If I fail a course, what is my next step?
If you fail a course you must register for it again at the next offering of that course and timetable issues can be sorted out with the respective B.Ed. Level coordinator.

What are GPA points, ‘WARNINGS’ and ‘REQUIRED TO WITHDRAW’ notices?
GPA points are the points earned from marks gained (see grid below). ‘Warnings’ are notices generated automatically from the electronic database BANNER for students who fail to maintain a GPA average of .75 for the semester. At this point the affected student must meet with the Dean of the Faculty for further advice. If the problem persists for a second semester, a ‘Required to Withdraw’ (RTW) notice is generated. Students on ‘RTW’ can re-apply to their choice of programmes after one academic year.

How does the deadline for entry of marks affect me, the student?
BANNER has very strict deadline dates for lecturers to enter marks. Failure of students to honour the assignment due dates may result in the assignment mark not being entered on the electronic system BANNER before it closes.
RESOURCES
The School of Education has its own specialist library to support teaching and research. There is a computer laboratory and limited Internet access.

ATTENDANCE
Successful completion of the programme is premised on regular and punctual attendance at all scheduled sessions.

For all students registered in our B.Ed. ECCE programme, please note that registers of student attendance are kept. These students should note that the University requires regular attendance (a minimum of 75%) as condition for the award of the Bachelor in Education degree.

For students registered in the B.Ed. Primary (General) programme, please note that attendance in online classes is determined by the date students access (log into) their online course site. Students should be aware that their eLearning activity can be observed by instructors and administration. Activity tracking includes (but is not limited to) coursework, learner profile, chat, and course mail.

ASSESSMENT
Assessment will take place throughout the programme:-

Student performance will be assessed by a variety of means which may include group or individual tasks, oral or visual presentations, journals, media products, written assignments and examinations.

If you have failed an assignment, you may be allowed to re-submit a re-worked version of it, depending on the initial grade you received.

You MUST adhere to the resubmission date set. If you fail to do this, you would be considered as having failed the course and you MUST re-register for the course when it is next offered.

- With a right margin of one inch, and the top, bottom and left margins 1½ inches.

References
References must be given for everything, which you take from another author because:
- Not to do so is PLAGIARISM, literary and intellectual theft and cheating, passing off as your work what is really that of someone else;
- Those assessing your work need to know what exactly is your own work and what you have taken from elsewhere and so to be able to check that you have quoted or used it correctly;
- Other readers (e.g. future B. Ed. participants) also need to know what is your work and what is not, so that they can quote the correct source and follow up your references.

When to quote or mention other works
i. Every time you use the ideas or words of another writer, you must indicate the source so as to avoid plagiarism;
ii. If you use the actual words, put them in single quotation marks and give the reference;
iii. If you put a writer’s ideas into your own words, you must still give the reference to the source;
iv. Quoting the actual words is necessary when: you wish to show that the writer actually said that particular thing; you intend to examine in detail what was said or it is a definition of a key term;
v. Otherwise you should try to put another’s ideas into your words so as to show that you understand what was said;
vi. Except as stated in (iv) avoid long quotations.
vii. DO NOT MERELY QUOTE, for that occupies space without anything being said by YOU. Use what you quote, as in (iv), or to support your argument;
e.g.: Do not merely quote several definitions, but critique them and conclude with the one which you accept and are going to use, or give that one only.

MAKE SURE THAT THE READER WILL KNOW THAT YOU AGREE OR DISAGREE WITH WHAT YOU QUOTE.

viii. Beware of quoting an author as saying something with which he does not in fact agree. Writers often set out a certain position in some detail before going on to critique, modify or reject it. Therefore, read before and after the particular passage to make sure that it does express the writer’s own position.
