

ELIZABETH WALCOTT-HACKSHAW

Lecturer
Department of Liberal Arts
The University of the West Indies

Office:

Department of Liberal Arts
The University of the West Indies
Saint Augustine
Phone: (868) 662-2002x 3024
Fax: (868) 663-5059
Email: ewalcotthackshaw@fhe.uwi.tt

Education:

1995 Ph.D. Boston University, French Language and Literature
1988 M.A., Boston University, French Language and Literature
1987 B.A., Boston University, English Literature and French Language and Literature

Professional Experience:

1999 -	Lecturer, Dept. of Liberal Arts, French, The University of the West Indies, St. Augustine.
1997 - 1998	Temporary Lecturer, Dept. of Liberal Arts, French, The University of the West Indies, St. Augustine
1995 - 1997	French Language Instructor, The Alliance Francaise, Port-of-Spain, Trinidad
1991 - 1992	Lecturer, French Department, Boston University
1986 - 1991	Teaching Fellow. French Department, Boston University

Recent Publications:

- Reinterpreting the Haitian Revolution and its Cultural Aftershocks (1804-2004), Elizabeth Walcott-Hackshaw and Martin Munro (Eds.), Kingston, Jamaica: University of the West Indies Press, 2006.
- Four Taxis Facing North, Elizabeth Walcott-Hackshaw, Hexham Northumberland, Flambard Press, 2007.

Courses Taught

- French Caribbean Women Writers
- The French Novel in the 19th Century
- The French Caribbean Novel
- Post Romantic French Poetry

Research Activity and Interests

- The Poetics of Francophone/Haitian Women Writers
- The treatment of Caribbean Return Migration
- Short Stories of the Caribbean Region (Anglophone/Francophone /Hispanic)
- The poets and writers of 19th French Literature (Flaubert and Baudelaire)