Workshop on Haematology and Blood Transfusion in Small Animals

Including diagnosis and management of haematological disorders with a focus on protozoal diseases

March 29th and 30th, 2019
Cost: TT$1000
School of Veterinary Medicine
Eric Williams Medical Sciences Complex
Champ Fleurs

This workshop is approved by AAVSB RACE for 14.00 CE credits

Featured Speaker: Professor Urs Giger

Urs Giger is the Charlotte Newton Sheppard Endowed Professor of Medicine, School of Veterinary Medicine, University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, USA. He also had secondary professorships in Small Animal Internal Medicine at the University of Zurich as well as in Haematology at the Medical School, University of Pennsylvania. He is a diplomate of the American and European Colleges of Veterinary Internal Medicine as well as a diplomate of the European College of Clinical Pathology.

His clinical and research expertise are in the areas of hereditary and haematologic disorders, with over 250 original research publications, scientific abstracts and reviews. Professor Giger has been the recipient of many awards including the Transfusion Medicine Academic Award from the National Institutes of Health (NIH), the 2015 AVMA Excellence in Feline Research Award for outstanding clinical research in feline medicine, and the 2018 Ramsey Distinguished Lecture Award from Iowa State University. He has traveled frequently as an invited speaker for national and international conferences.

For more information contact: (868) 645-3232 ext 4242