EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Significant changes were made to the staffing arrangements at the Institute. Dr. Jeanne Roach-Baptiste successfully defended her PhD Thesis in the Department of Women and Gender Studies at Rutgers University in July 2012. Dr. Roach-Baptiste was appointed an Assistant Lecturer effective August 2012 since Professor Patricia Mohammed proceeded on Sabbatical Leave for the Academic Year. The year also saw the addition of new academic and support staff: In August 2012 Dr. Nalini Mohabir joined the Institute as an Instructor for the academic year; Ms. Sommer Hunte, was appointed to act as the Outreach and Research Officer for Ms. Deborah McFee who is on two years assisted leave from UWI to pursue her PhD in Global Governance and Human Security at the University of Massachusetts Boston; Ms. Natasha Richards-Isaac joined the Secretariat. The IGDS also bid farewell to Dr. Charleston Thomas - Assistant Lecturer.

Emphasis was given to ironing out the “teething” problems of the Graduate Programme and to focus on its throughput. The Institute aims to graduate 3 PhDs, 4 MScs, and 1 PG Diploma in October 2013. Two PhDs have successfully defended their PhD theses – Catherine Ali, on 18 January, 2013 and Sue Ann Barratt on 29 May, 2013. Two MScs have already submitted their research papers.

Research on the IDRC-funded project, “Politics, Power and Gender Justice in the Anglophone Caribbean: Women’s Understanding of Politics, Experiences of Political Contestation and the Possibilities for Gender Transformation” continued during the year.

2. GRADUATE STUDIES AND RESEARCH

Dr. Jeanne Roach-Baptiste served as IGDS Graduate Studies Coordinator for the period under review.

Three of our graduate students already have publications in peer-reviewed journals. One MPhil student is at present doing a six-month course, March through August, in Canada, but still Skypes in to our graduate course in which he is enrolled. One MSC is in Rio for two weeks from March 16 presenting at a conference and doing research. Both the MPhil and MSc students received full funding from the institution and conference.

CARIBSAVE will sponsor a regional graduate panel on Climate Change for the IGDS 20th Anniversary Conference. The CARIBSAVE coordinator from Cave Hill will attend at the IGDS’ expense, and the Chair of Planning Committee will moderate the panel.

Our Saturday graduate writing workshops continue. A graduate writing workshop will be held Saturday 23, March, 2013 from noon to 5pm. Noon to 2pm will be dedicated to writing abstracts for the 20th Anniversary Conference. This part of the workshop is open to all students and staff interested in presenting at the conference.

The Regional IGDS Graduate sub-committee held its second meeting on Tuesday 12, March, 2012 via conference call. The committee comprises the University Director, Prof. Verene Shepherd, RCU; Dr. Charmaine Crawford, Acting Head of IGDS and GSC, Cave Hill; Dr. Dalea Beane Sub-committee Chair, Mona; Dr. Jeanne Roach-Baptiste, GSC STA; and a graduate student representative. The QAR team suggested a Regional GSC, but at the March 12 meeting the sub-committee agreed this idea was not feasible given the amount of responsibility, unless a specific post was created for a Regional GSC.

One of the suggestions emerging from QAR was greater socialization of and support for MPhil and PhD students, so the Regional IGDS Graduate sub-committee began focusing on this area immediately.

There are initiatives to streamline the graduate programme regionally.

The IGDS is brainstorming marketing and strategies by each unit to boost student intake.

RESEARCH PROJECTS COMPLETED OR IN PROGRESS

1. Building Responsive Policy: Gender, Sexual Culture and Implications for HIV & AIDS in the Caribbean

   Project Team:
   - Prof. Rhoda Reddock, Project Director, Deputy Principal, UWI, St. Augustine Campus;
   - Dr. Sandra Reid, Lead Researcher, Senior Lecturer, Department of Psychiatry;
   - Ms. Tisha Nickenig, Research Project Coordinator, IGDS;
   - Dr. Tia Cooper, Lecturer, Communications Studies, Department of Liberal Arts;
   - Dr. Gabrielle Hosein, Lecturer, IGDS

   This Project took place in three countries - Barbados, Suriname, and Trinidad and Tobago, and is funded by the International Development Research Centre (IRDC), and managed by the UN Women, Caribbean office. Institutional partners include: The University of West Indies HIV/AIDS Response Programme (UWIHARP), Barbados; Ultimate Purpose, Suriname; and York University, Canada.

   The Trinidad and Tobago case study aimed to document and analyse the practices, attitudes, feelings, meanings, and gendered negotiations of power among young adults, ages 18 to 30, in Trinidad and Tobago taking into consideration the socio-economic context, and class, religious and ethnic diversity that exists.

2. Breaking the Silence: A Multisectoral Approach to Preventing and Addressing Child Sexual Abuse in Trinidad and Tobago

   Research Team: Rhoda Reddock, Sandra Reid, Jane Parpart, Tisha Nickenig, CADV Coordinator: Maureen Searles; Project Partners: Coalition Against Domestic Violence (CADV), Caribbean Health Research Council (CHRC) and Arts in Action (UWI Department of Creative and Festival Arts) Funded by: The UN Trust Fund to End Violence Against Women and the UN International Children’s Emergency Fund (UNICEF) Trinidad and Tobago.

   The Project seeks to break the silence on the taboo subject of child sexual abuse (CSA)/incest and its implications for HIV throughout T&T by empowering children, parents, communities, policy makers and service providers who work in child protection, HIV/AIDS and women’s rights.

   From February to May 2013 IGDS finalized a toolkit for involving communities and including gender sensitization for programs aimed at preventing and responding to child sexual abuse and incest, which included guidelines, tools and other useful information for persons to use when creating relevant programs.
On 27 and 28 May 2013, the research project coordinator presented the toolkit in Antigua to UNICEF country officers. In collaboration with UNICEF, IGDS also began creating an online module of the toolkit and planning for in-country trainings during June 2013.

3. Politics, Power and Gender Justice in the Anglophone Caribbean: Women’s Understanding of Politics, Experiences of Political Contestation and the Possibilities for Gender Transformation

The STA Unit received CND$250,000.00 in funding from the IDRC for this two-year research project. In an attempt to investigate global strategies for advancing democratic governance, women’s rights and gender equality in the Anglophone Caribbean, the International Development Research Centre (IDRC) and the Institute for Gender and Development Studies, UWI, St. Augustine Campus (IGDS) have collaborated to undertake the proposed research, Politics, Power and Gender Justice in the Anglophone Caribbean: Women’s Understandings of Politics, Experiences of Political Contestation and the Possibilities for Gender Transformation. The study will be conducted over a period of 24 months, and will take place in Dominica, Guyana and Trinidad and Tobago in partnership with the following: IGDS, UWI, Mona campus and IGDS, UWI, Cave Hill campus. A Regional Research Team Meeting was held 24 to 26 October 2012.

From January 2013 to May 2013 researchers were in the field in Trinidad, Guyana, Dominica and St. Lucia collecting data on the experiences of women’s political leadership, electoral quota systems, national gender policies, and women’s transformational leadership and their effectiveness of achieving gender justice. They began analyzing and writing draft chapters in June 2013 as well.

Politics, Power and Gender Justice in the Anglophone Caribbean
Project Team:

✴ Dr. Gabrielle Hosein – Principal Investigator
✴ Tisha Nickenig – Research Project Coordinator

The Project team worked closely with four researchers hired to conduct historical and regional reviews of four strategies used throughout the Caribbean in support of gender justice.
4. Transnational Feminist Movements: Knowledge, Power and Social Change

Dr. Rawwida Baksh

The OUP Handbook on Transnational Feminist Movements: Knowledge, Power and Social Change, an encyclopaedic collection of 40 essays by feminist scholars and activists globally, has two main aims: (1) to set out the historical, political, economic and social contexts in which transnational feminist movements (understood as the transnational mobilizing of organizations, networks, coalitions, campaigns and actions to advance women’s rights and gender equality) have emerged and burgeoned on the world stage since the 1970s to the present; and (2) to record the contributions made by transnational feminist movements to global knowledge, policy and social change. The Handbook covers 10 themes which include: feminist knowledge, theory and philosophy; organizing for change; body politics, health and well-being; human rights and gender justice; economic and social justice; citizenship, leadership, democracy and governance; conflict, militarism and peace-building; secularism and religious fundamentalisms; and feminist political ecology. Dr. Rawwida Baksh, lead editor, has been working out of the IGDS on the project, in collaboration with Dr. Wendy Harcourt of the Institute of Social Studies, The Hague. The 1,000+ page Handbook is being published by Oxford University Press as part of its Political Science series, in online and print versions (forthcoming 2014). The Handbook is expected to be launched by OUP in celebration of Beijing+20, at the UN Commission on the Status of Women, in New York in March 2015.

5. The Courage of Past and Present Times – A Novel by Patricia Mohammed. Research carried out at UWI St Augustine, Queen’s University Belfast, British Museum, Brechin Castle Sugar Archives, field trips to estate and other locations, and interviews with a range of scholars and informants for characterization and physical descriptions of people, place and events in early 20th century Trinidad and for contemporary 21st century society of Trinidad and Tobago and Northern Ireland for this novel (provisionally titled) The Courage of Past and Present Times. Publisher: Hansib Publishers of UK. The novel is a preamble to the screenplay for production as a full feature length narrative film.

Sabbatical Research Projects – P Mohammed

11. ACTION RESEARCH AND OUTREACH WORK

Water for Life: The Trinidad and Tobago Initiative: A Model for Community Participation

Partner organizations include: Royal Bank of Canada, Texas A&M University, University of East Anglia, Global Water Partnership (Caribbean) and the Women Gender and Water Network.

The project was launched in September 2009 and Water for Life Vacation Camps were organized in the rural communities of Biche, Matelot and Icacos over the July-August period in 2010, 2011 and 2012. The overall aim of the project is the successful delivery of gender sensitive, educational interventions to improve water safety and water quality in water-scarce communities in the Republic of Trinidad and Tobago.

The Children Water Research and Outreach Project held a three-day training session for instructors in the IGDS Seminar Room, July 10th – 12th 2012.

The IGDS/WGWN project, ‘Conduct of Children Water Camps Program in Rural and Urban Communities in Trinidad and Tobago’ was approved by the National Steering Committee (NSC) for the amount of US$46,114.13 on 27 June 2012 funded by the GEF-Small Grants Program and UNDP.
IGDS/WGWN - Report by Dr. Fredericka Deare, Coordinator, for the period under review:

In General:
1. The Network members agreed to:
   a. Continue and strengthen its focus on the camp programme particularly in conducting the camps themselves, conduct of research in the communities and production of resource materials; and
   b. Play an active role in upcoming IGDS conference in 2013.
2. There is the possibility of conducting a Gender Mainstreaming in Integrated Water Resources Management course is being explored because of several requests made.

2012 Children Water Camps Programme:
1. The sponsors of this year’s Camps were – GEF SGP, the Community Development Fund and Atlantic LNG.

2. This year we were able to expand the children water camps from three locations (these camps are referred to as our flagship camps) to include two other locations – Erin and East Port-of-Spain. As usual, one two-week camp as held per community except in East Port-of-Spain where there were two camps held over a four-week period.

   July 16 - 27, 2012            Matelot
   July 29 - August 10, 2012     Biche
   August 13 - 24, 2012         Icacos, Erin
   August 6-31, 2012             Laventille

3. All the camps were operated by IGDS/WGWN trained facilitators in collaboration with the local primary schools. However we collaborated with the East Port-of-Spain Council of Community Organisations (EPCCO) in conducting two camps at the Laventille Community Resource Centre.

4. The camps were oversubscribed in the flagship communities with approximately 50 children in each camp. Ninety children attended the East Port-of-Spain camps. Twenty five children attended the Erin camp.

5. The theme for this year’s camps was ‘Water, Agriculture and Me’ in keeping with the 2012 World Water Day’s theme – Water and Food Security.

6. As part of the camps, a community project was undertaken in each area
   i) Matelot – Irrigation system installed at the Matelot RC Community School (Primary School)
   ii) Biche – Greenhouse was constructed at the Biche RC Primary School
   iii) Erin – Beach clean up
   iv) Icacos – Irrigation system installed at the Icacos Government Primary School
7. Post-camp follow-up activities are planned with two of the camps – Matelot and Biche.

The Eighth Annual General Meeting of the Global Water Partnership – Caribbean (GWP-C) took place in Dominica early April 2013. Dr Deare, GWP Regional Gender Focal Point for the Caribbean, gave a ten-minute presentation on the new Gender Policy of the GWP. Details of the GWP-C’s new climate change project revealed to the general membership– it is expected to provide opportunities for the regional organisations to collaborate with GWPC. Keizel Kydd was asked to speak about the lessons learnt from the CWC programme at a training session with the EMA on Community Engagement.
The Break the Silence: end child sexual abuse research project and public awareness campaign
An informal but saturated information sharing session was held for members of the Mass Media, in November 2012. This brought together a large cross section of media (journalists, photographers, television and radio personnel as well as newspaper editors).

Articles appeared in the print media (November 2012) as well as an interview on radio 103. FM (April 2013)

Various press coverage of BTS events can be found on:

Break the Silence Network
During the strong campaign months of November, March and April (Child Abuse Awareness month) BTS Network members participated in and conducted numerous outreach events, taking the Break the Silence campaign into the public arena across the country, as well as to other Caribbean islands:

November 2012
• Cheryl-Ann Gadjadar, Launch of the book The Girl in the Cupboard;
March-April 2013

- IGDS staff and student groups at the Network of NGOs International Women’s Day Expo;
- CADV/Rape Crisis and the British High Commission at the Child Abuse Conference, Hyatt;
- UWI Social Work Students Outreach on campus;
- T&T Social Workers candlelight walk in commemoration of World Social Work Month;
- Random Acts of Good Deeds and IGDS staff at the Peace Walk, Diego Martin;
- Random Acts of Good Deeds at the Macaroni Kids Cancer Awareness Family Day;
- Network of NGOs at the Ministry of Gender IWD walk, Queens Park Savannah;
- Red Initiatives at the San Juan/Laventille Regional Corp IWD Community Workshops;
- Flaming Word Ministries at a Child Abuse Awareness walk in Antigua;
- Flaming Word Ministries at outreach events at the Xtra Foods, Chaguanas and Grand Bazaar.

Break the Silence painted billboards were installed on the Churchill–Roosevelt Highway Smaller Community Signs were put up in Arima and Diego Martin as part of the drive in April 2013. In addition, the Citizen’s Security Programme of the Ministry of National Security embarked on installing signs as part of a new sign project in April 2013.
12. IGDS READING ROOM - REPORT FROM TESSA OTTLEY, DOCUMENTARIAN

1. The book collection is now fully computerized; the card catalogue has been discarded. The database used is WINISIS, the Windows version of CDS-ISIS. This computerization has both simplified and improved information gathering for students and others looking for information on specific topics.

2. 24 titles, including a donation of ten books donated by Dr. Paul Kadetz, were added to the monograph database, including eight online documents. This database now has 2,668 titles.

3. A number of UWI students, other University students and members of the public are recorded as having used the resources of the Institute’s Reading Room during this period.

4. A selection of documents relating to the WAND and WDSG were selected for scanning and uploading to the UWI Space and are in process of being finalized with key words. These will soon be live online.

5. Covers of some of the archival documents recently uploaded to the UWI Space

1. WAND (What is WAND); 2. WAND 10th Anniversary Programme; 3. WDSGroup A Decade of Development Publication.

20th ANNIVERSARY LOGO AND MARKETING

Meetings were held with the Marketing and Communications Office and it was decided to push the tag line "IGDS St. Augustine Unit celebrates 20 years: Gender transformations in the Caribbean" throughout the entire year in a build up to the November conference. This branding continues into the 20th Anniversary Website and the 20th Anniversary Conference Website.

Variations of the 20th Anniversary logo were designed by Marsha Pearce. Examples:

BRANDING ACROSS ALL UNITS

Numerous layouts were created for use by all units, in an effort to have branding across campuses uniformed. Branding across the Region: Artwork for headers, footers, templates for invitations, PR and letterheads were created by the IGDS SAU for use by all units across the three campuses, in an effort to have branding across campuses uniformed for the 20th Anniversary. In addition, a combined regional calendar was created.
