

Now that the UK has fully exited the EU, its international relations are on a new footing. In this vein, UK-Caribbean relations have also had to adjust. There are emerging debates about this new chapter in UK-Caribbean relations, as progress takes shape on several fronts.

In this regard, are you interested in acquiring substantive knowledge and real-world insight on underlying debates germane to the CARIFORUM-UK Economic Partnership Agreement (EPA)? Are you seeking information on Caribbean states' policy toward the UK? The UK has traditionally partnered closely with regional states on a host of issues, building on the premise of a 'special relationship'. Whither that relationship in the 2020s, having regard to the UK's post-Brexit global role and some emergent global trends? Do you want to gain a broader perspective on the future of UK-Caribbean relations, with an eye to the weaknesses in multilateralism that the COVID-19 crisis has exposed?

Webinar Series

The DAOC Advantage™
Global Outlook. Real-world Impact. Caribbean Minded.™

If so, then join the Diplomatic Academy of the Caribbean (DAOC) on Wednesday, 31 March 2021

9:30am to 12:30pm (Atlantic Standard Time)

as a virtual audience member for a webinar it will host, entitled

Brexit: Implications for the Caribbean and the Future of UK-Caribbean Relations

This DAOC-moderated webinar, which will be held via Zoom teleconference, features a panel comprised of an international trade and development expert, an international legal expert, as well as senior officials drawn from

For registration details, including registration deadline, please visit the DAOC website or contact Dr. Nand C. Bardouille at nand.bardouille@sta.uwi.edu and diplomaticacademy@sta.uwi.edu or at tel. no.: +1-868-662-2002, ext. 85359, 85360