Be part of a Great West Indian Tradition

The University of the West Indies (UWI) is a well-established independent university that serves 17 countries of the Commonwealth Caribbean: Anguilla, Antigua & Barbuda, The Bahamas, Barbados, Belize, Bermuda, The British Virgin Islands, The Cayman Islands, Dominica, Grenada, Jamaica, Montserrat, St. Kitts & Nevis, St. Lucia, St. Vincent & the Grenadines, Trinidad & Tobago, and the Turks & Caicos Islands.

An innovative, internationally competitive, contemporary university deeply rooted in the Caribbean, The UWI is an international university, in every respect, with links extending beyond the region to well over 100 universities worldwide.

As the number one Caribbean University, The UWI is internationally recognized as a centre of excellence in research, knowledge creation and innovation on matters related to the Caribbean and Small Island States. Our research capacity is an important asset and our research agenda addresses priority areas aligned to specific developmental needs of the Caribbean region that we serve.

OUR HISTORY
The UWI is the oldest, fully regional institution of higher learning in the Commonwealth Caribbean. The UWI began at the Mona Campus, Jamaica, in 1948 as a College of the University of London; and in 1962 achieved full university status. The St. Augustine Campus in Trinidad and Tobago was established in 1961 and in 1963 a third Campus was established at Cave Hill in Barbados. In 2008 the University established a fourth Campus – The Open Campus – to better manage and expand multi-mode delivery of its programmes.

OUR FACULTIES
The eight faculties of The UWI offer a wide range of Undergraduate, Master’s and Doctoral programmes in Engineering, Food & Agriculture, Humanities & Education, Law, Medical Sciences, Science & Technology, Social Sciences and Sport. Several of these programmes are delivered through the distance mode.

THE ST. AUGUSTINE CAMPUS, FACULTY OF MEDICAL SCIENCES

The Faculty of Medical Sciences was founded in 1948 at Mona, Jamaica as a College of the University of London.

In 1989, teaching began at the Faculty of Medical Sciences, St. Augustine for Medical, Dental, Veterinary and Pharmacy students. In 2005, the first cohort of Nursing students was accepted and in 2012, the BSc Optometry was added to the Faculty of Medical Sciences’ programmes.

The Faculty is located mainly on the Eric Williams Medical Sciences Complex, which is situated approximately eight (8) miles from Port of Spain and two miles from the main campus at St. Augustine. Other clinical teaching sites include San Fernando and Port of Spain General Hospitals, Sangre Grande Hospital, Mt. Hope Maternity Hospital and Community clinics across the country.

PROGRAMMES IN THE DEPARTMENT OF PRECLINICAL SCIENCES

The Department of Preclinical Sciences, located at the Eric Williams Medical Sciences Complex (Mt. Hope), comprises the academic units of Human Anatomy, Human Physiology and Biochemistry. The Department admits students with seven years of high school education or with university degrees, and prepares students over two academic years for paraclinical and clinical training towards degrees in Medicine (MBBS) or Dental Surgery (DDS). The undergraduate programme is delivered via a hybrid system of didactic lectures, laboratory practical sessions, and small group tutorials using Problem-Based Learning (PBL). The curriculum is based on an organ-system approach covering all the main body systems (e.g. Cardiovascular system, Respiratory System) rather than being discipline-based. Problem-based learning is an essential part of the Department’s education philosophy and all applicants are expected to be sympathetic to this mode of programme delivery.

At the postgraduate level, the Department offers MPhil/PhD programmes in Anatomy, Physiology, Biochemistry, Molecular Genetics and Neuroscience.

DUTIES OF APPOINTEE

The appointee will be expected to deliver teaching via online and face-to-face modes, contribute to undergraduate and postgraduate teaching and curriculum development, pursue an active independent or collaborative research agenda, and attract extra-mural research grants. Additionally, the appointee will be expected to contribute to the administrative and support functions of the Department and Faculty, engaging in service to the community.

Tenure of Appointment – Appointment as a Lecturer or Senior Lecturer will normally be for (3) years in the first instance, with eligibility for renewal.

Subsequent to the first appointment a member of staff who has served in an academic position in this or some other university for a period of six (6) years will be eligible for consideration for appointment on indefinite tenure.

Research – Persons appointed to posts in the Faculty of Medical Sciences – St. Augustine, will be expected to actively participate in research activities as relevant to field.
