

Biography

Dr. Venkatesh graduated from Bangalore Medical College and trained in Internal Medicine at the University of the West Indies and UK. He was a fellow in Endocrinology at MD Anderson Cancer Center and later on finished residency and fellowship training in EMG/Clinical Neurophysiology and Neuromuscular disease. His research interests include diabetic neuropathy, spinal cord reflexes in CRPS, novel uses of botulinum toxin and vascular neurology.