

CETL Goes Virtual!

Embrace this Contemporary Approach to Professional Development from your location.

Join us for PART 4 in the series of workshops.

Certificate included upon attendance of all four parts of the series.

CENTRE FOR EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING & LEARNING (CETL)

presents

USING BLOGS TO EXTEND TEACHING BEYOND THE CLASSROOM

According to the Glossary of Education Reform, student engagement refers to the degree of attention, curiosity, interest, optimism, and passion that students show when they are learning or being taught, which extends to the level of motivation they have to learn and progress in their education. Blogs are online didactic platforms that allow teaching and student engagement to occur beyond the four walls of the physical classroom. It provides an avenue through which the physical borders of teaching and learning can be removed. This workshop will orient participants to Blogger, and the many ways it can be used for teaching and engagement beyond the physical classroom.

Topics include:

1. Teaching and Learning Beyond the Classroom (Online, Distance Education)
2. Understanding Blogs
3. Using Blogger for Teaching and Learning Beyond the Classroom

Dates: June 27th 2019

Time: 1:00pm to 2:30pm

Presenter: Mr. Justin Zephyrine

Venue: Virtual Learning (link will be provided upon registration)