SEMESTER I
2017/2018 REPORT

- During the period October – December 2017, the CTTERF committee reformed to rally behind our neighbouring Caribbean islands who were devastated by natural disasters and sought help.

- Hurricane Maria ravished our Caribbean neighbours. Vehement winds ripped roofs, damaged infrastructure and left thousands without electricity. Floods buried landscapes of islands. The biggest impact however, was felt on the citizens of these countries. Many were left homeless, seeking refuge and wondering where their next meal or clean water were coming from. The losses were unimaginable.

- Like many non-profit groups, the CTTERF was compelled to act for aid. With regional and international bodies partnering to lend their support, we wanted to GIVE MORE.

- The CTTERF's missions encapsulates Agenda 2030 for Sustainable Development wherein "No One Is Left Behind". This is evident in our committee structure. SDGs 3, 6, 13, 14, 15 & 17 are echoed in our disaster relief, as we strive to proceed with this global mandate, whilst the serving the Caribbean.

- We are a student led initiative, under the Institute of International Relations at the University of the West Indies, St. Augustine. Our aim was to provide immediate disaster relief to those in need. With the loyal support of colleagues, staff and external contributors, we were able to GIVE MORE!

- We demonstrated solidarity with charity organizations who aided flood victims of Trinidad and Tobago;

The “GIVE MORE” Initiative

- Items were given in abundance thanks to the CTTERF’s Campaign Officers, who utilized flyers, handouts, class-to-class campaigning, t-shirt promo & inter- and extra -campus campaigning: Usha Lakhan, Avril Purcell & Abigail Johnson.

The partnerships between the UWI Guild Office and CTTERF were strengthened and co-ordinated by the Communications Officers: Avery Durham, Nestor Garcia & Trishana Singh. They also prompted support outside of UWI networks. This team established CTTERF's first email address: commctterf@outlook.com to be used for current & future communications.

The Guild liaison was Guild Secretary 2017/2018, Priya Harnarine who is also a student of IIR and promoted the initiative via Guild social media.

The committee's communications and meetings were organized and co-ordinated by Leanna Joy Seelochan, Chair. Assistance was given by Ahmad Ali, Meetings Officer, who recorded minutes of meetings and shared documents accordingly with the members.

Digital graphics and designs for flyers, logos & custom letterheads were sponsored by Mr. Kieran Khan, Director of Huckleberry Media Company. He is also a past student of IIR and co-founder of CTTERF.
